Lev. 25

"LET US LEARN FROM HIM WHAT WE MUST DO FOR HIS LOVE"

(St. Angela Merici)
foundress of the Ursulines.

Today, the feast of St. Ursula (October 21st), we draw our Jubilee celebrations to a close - but history again invites us to remember - and to look ahead in thanksgiving to the celebration of our Centenary. We recall the psalmist's words:

"The Lord is good.
He is always loving and kind,
His faithfulness goes on and on to each succeeding generation".

(Ps. 100:5)

The history of the Ursulines in Australia witnesses to the goodness and faithfulness of the Lord in each generation; witnesses to the religious, parents and students - our Ursuline Associates, who over the last 100 years, have known and responded to the love of the Lord.

The first Ursulines to come to Australia were members of the Ursuline Community in Duderstadt, Germany. This community had been serving their Lord for over 200 years when, in 1877, as a result of Bismark's May Laws, they were forced to leave Germany and their homeland and take refuge in Greenwich, England. Here they were helped by a Capuchin priest, Elzear Torregiani.

Four years later, and 100 years ago, Elzear Torregiani was appointed Bishop of the new diocese of Armidale (N.S.W.) In December of that year, 1881, this new Bishop invited these German Ursulines to come to Australia and to his diocese - to "a home Bismarck will never take from you."

On New Year's Day, 1882, the Superior asked each member of the community to give her secret answer to the Bishop's request. Ten professed nuns, including the Superior, Sister Bernard Wippen, chose to be "missionaries to Australia."

They left London on 24th May and arrived in Armidale on 12th September, 1882 - after a journey that is a story in itself. They must have been very conscious of St. Angela's promise:

'If it was He who planted it in the first place, who is there that can uproot it?'

Bismarck had taken away their material possessions, but could not uproot their love for and faith in their Lord, and His call.

Persecution and hardship, and now a new land with a new language and culture, did not weaken their response to His love and belief in His faithfulness. Quickly they adapted to their new land and with the psalmist would say:

"Our children (of Australia) too shall serve Him, for they shall hear from us of the wonders of the Lord,
generations yet unborn shall hear of miracles He did for us!"

(Ps. 22:30.31)

They told of the wonders of the Lord in Armidale and, within fifty years, in Ashbury, Dutton Park, Tweed Heads, Oxley and Toowoomba (1930-31). Heeding St. Angela's words, they had learnt from their Lord how to live in response to His love.

DURING THIS CENTENARY YEAR,
LET US TOO RECALL HIS GOODNESS AND FAITHFULNESS:

"LET US LEARN FROM HIM WHAT WE MUST DO FOR HIS LOVE" AS
WE PASS ON TO THE NEXT GENER-ATION THE WONDERS OF THE LORD,
THE MIRACLES HE HAS DONE FOR US.

This is a challenge to us in today's society. Let us take courage from the message of John Paul II:

"To be a witness to Christ, to bear witness to Him,
it is necessary, first, to follow Him.
It is necessary to learn to know Him,
to place oneself, so to speak, in His school,
to penetrate all His mystery."

Let us learn from Him!

CHILDREN of the Jubilee

HYMN TO ST. ANGELA.

Chorus

Help us, O, St. Angela,
Help us to be true.
In the things we say,
And the things we do.
Guide us in our actions,
Towards our fellow man.
In this time of freedom.
The year of Jubilee.

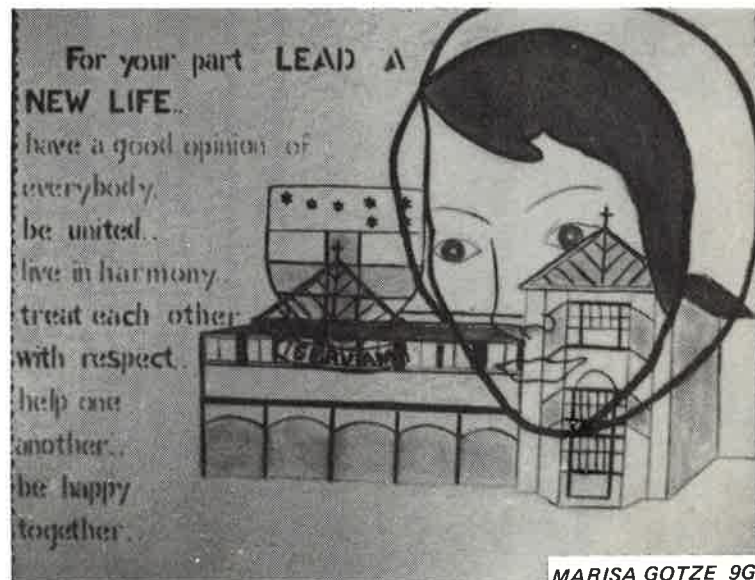

Verse 1

Long, long ago,
When many people were in need.
Of your guidance
And your teachings.
With these you sowed your seeds.
Those of avision slowly creeping.
Into reality.
To train the poor young women
Who did not know of God.

Verse 2

Though you were grieving,
You had the strength to carry on.
And so must we carry God's flame,
And keep it burning in our hearts.
To shine for others who cannot see your light.
To radiate your love, and to be joyful.
And to be generous, like you, O Angela.

DROUGHT

The depressing heat with not even a dry wind,
The dusty dry plains cracking in the heat,
The cattle falling silently one by one to their death,
The crops going to seed and the barn getting less full all the time.

The everlasting flies sticking persistently on you,
The sweaty, clammy, unbearable, unsleepable nights,
The hot listless days.
The Drought.

LOST

I'm lost - surrounded by tall buildings, cars, long streets. Yes, I'm lost!

I'm lost in a big world without a friend, without a family to care. But I did have and now I haven't.
Where are they? They've left me. I know it! Yes!
They've left me. Where shall I go? What should I do? I'm lost! I'm lost! I'm lost!

Buildings tall and buildings high! They all seem different now that I'm alone. I've always wondered how it would be - how things would seem.
Now I'm here. It's scary. It's scary and I'm lost!

Running, rushing people, no time to stop, no time to care. I'll stay here and wait, watch and listen.
Strange and funny sounds that I never heard before, that I never really thought about to listen to, they are all there - every little sound. It isn't a dream.
It's strange - a feeling I can't describe.

Where are my family! They can't be far; I was with them, only a few minutes ago. The shop! I was in the shop with them. That shop! There! There they are! They're all there, everyone of them! They don't appear to have lost me.

I feel secure - to be in the presence of my family once more.

They were there and I felt like a person that everybody knew. They left me and I felt pushed and turned away, rejected. They came back and I came back too.

THE SWAGMAN

Blindly he follows
The beaten bush tracks.
His pots and cans dangling limply
From his pack,
He gazes at the harsh dry nature,
That surrounds him.
But then he stops and wonders
At the beauty of it all.
The menacing flies cling to his weather-beaten face
And thick bushy beard,
Following him on his,
Long journey of freedom
But the corks dangling from his hat
Continually chase them away
'What a life! What have I got to lose!'
He thinks to himself
As he blindly follows
The beaten bush tracks.

Belinda Ritchie. 9L.

JACARANDA TREE

O Jacaranda Tree
Your graceful branches
Greet each day, each season
With a beauty ever-new
And re-newed.

In spring
Your leaves are
Green feathery lace against
The blue of the sky.

When summer comes,
You change, transform
Into a purple smudge
Of fleeting beauty.
Your blossoms,
Drifting slowly downwards,
Carpet the ground beneath -
A splash of purple brilliance
Against the deep green of the grass.

You light the pale blue autumn sky
With leaves - of golden bronze
Leaves which slowly sink in Splashes of reds and browns
On to the cold, dark ground of winter.

O Jacaranda Tree
Your graceful branches
Greet each day, each season
With a beauty ever new
And re-nwed.

Ann-Maree Shearer. 9L.

CREATION

Sun filtering through the trees,
A bird's whistle winging on the breeze.
Vines swaying gently to and fro,
Water on the rocks, shining with a glow.

Leaves floating to the ground,
Like a feather, with scarce a sound.
These are all the wonderful creation,
And God's own gift to our nation.

Jacinta Canavan. 9L.

IN THE BEGINNING

At first there was a yearning - a seeking, searching, hoping that burst in joy unending from the chorus of the dawn.
And the One awakened,
made the earth from stardust
and sang the sun from light,
the worlds ringed in darkness,
the heavens all around,
the wonder of Creation,
the day newly found!

Anna-Marie Imison (9L)

WINTER

Slowly, slowly drift the flakes,
ice delicate and white.
Cold fingers stretch over the lakes,
still waters layered in ice.
The ground, carpeted in snow,
the trees and flowers are dead.
Deer search in vain for food,
pawing the ground, nibbling the frozen grass.
Snow, an ever-moving curtain,
delicately sewn by an invisible needle;
the birds have all gone
as the polar north has come stretching its grasping hand out and the time of ice is here,
as the howling blizzard bays to the wolves and voices call to the moon.

DAILY LIFE

CASTLES IN THE AIR

Imagination, surpassing power, prestige and money, must be the greatest possession a man can have. It is at the heart of every great thing man has ever done. The life of man has moved from barbarism to civilisation simply because he has always been able to imagine something better.

There once was a man who imagined he could make a wheel turn, and the man who imagines he could cure pain. On and on the imagination goes until a man imagines he can build an aeroplane, a computer or an atomic bomb. Today has been built on the imagination of yesterday and tomorrow is the imagination of today.

Imagination enables us to escape into a world of make believe when the pressures and evils of the modern world seem to suffocate us.

Everyone builds a beautiful castle of ambition and hope high in the sky and furnishes and decorates it with their dreams, ideas and accomplishments. It's a goal to strive for and everyone hopes to reach their castle, to live there and make it a reality, to reap the harvests of their hard work and sacrifices. Some reach their goal, whether it be happiness, wealth or a good education. Others fall by the way side and watch their castles crumble before their eyes.

The imagination of a child is a supreme and wonderful thing. Children can make their pretend worlds come alive because they realise that there is a much more beautiful and romantic world around us, if we have eyes to see it and imagination to enter into it.

When we read a good book, play or poem, it seems as if we have jumped up behind the author and he is taking us for a ride on his winged horse, called Imagination, showing us wonderful places, times and events.

Poets and authors have the special gift of being able to describe their own castles in the air and put their ideas to paper. The vivid imagination of Shakespeare enabled him to live in many different worlds from the icy north of Scotland to Ancient Rome.

Without imagination, make believe and day dreams, our lives would become dull, boring and stereotyped. We would lose all the truth, beauty and glory of human life.

Helen Lomas. (10F)

A SENIOR IN STUDY

She sits at her desk, a small figure dressed in pink. Her head moves from side to side, as her blue pen moves across the page, rapidly filling up all the empty space.

She is in grade twelve this year, over at Downlands. A very quiet person, she has shoulder-length brown hair, brown eyes and an olive skin. A very pretty girl, she is also a good swimmer. She is slim and has a very small waist. Her hands are well-shaped, with slender fingers, and she keeps her nails a good length. The silver watch, which she wears as a bracelet fits her slender wrist very comfortably.

She is one of the dorm leaders, and she is also the head of my dinner table. Always around to give advice or help when it's needed, she is well-liked by everyone. She very rarely ever loses her temper, and very few things annoy her. Talking after lights is one of those things. She likes to sleep in in the mornings, so it doesn't always suit her to be out of bed in time for a seven o'clock breakfast, and be ready for the Downlands' bus by about eight o'clock.

A Downlands' prefect, she is a good friend of almost everyone. At the moment, her well-cared for eyebrows are drawn together in a slight frown, as she ponders over her homework. Then the frown clears away, as if by magic, and the pen, which, only a few moments before, was stilled, is moving rapidly once more. Then she stops yet again, to put her hair up off her neck. Then, with her chin resting on her wrist, she writes a few more words, before pausing to think about what she is writing. Then she bends down, and digging around in her bag, comes up with yet another folder, this time one filled with notes. She removes the notes, and places them beside her, on the teachers desk. The wind gets under the corner of one sheet of paper - she has to move quickly to stop her notes blowing onto the floor.

She pauses in her writing, to look around and see that every one is sitting down and working quietly. This is part of her job as study supervisor, and she is responsible for ensuring that there is quiet study in this room, and that no-one is playing up.

Another girl has come in, to ask her a question about their Accounting homework. She listens, then fishes around in her bag for her accounting book, which she lends to her, after whispering a few words to her.

Study is over. She straightens up, puts her books and pens back in her bag, and then, after announcing that study is finished and requesting that everyone please tidy up their area and put their chair up, she picks up her bag and walks out the door, to take her bag upstairs before going to lunch.

URSULINE JUBILEE POOL

Sunday, May 3rd, saw the official blessing and opening of the Ursuline Jubilee Pool, much to the delight of the students, teachers and parents. Apart from the official "christening" of the pool by a well known past student, Dianne Caulfield (Disie Duff), there were various swimming events involving present and past students, teachers and parents, and a family barbeque lunch which attracted a number of visitors.

The funds for the pool were contributed by both ex-students, present day students (jog-a-thon, and general class fund-raising) and the Parents and Friends Association).

The pool has already been used on many including the Spring Fair Fete on the 18th October. This addition to the school's facilities has already, and will surely in the future, provide extra entertainment and training for our students.

JOG-A-THON

Our annual jog-a-thon was held on Friday, 1st May at Newtown Park. Spirits were high as jogging was taken as a very serious activity by many, and as great fun by equally many. All classes participated well both in the jogging and during the time consuming task of collecting sponsors with the result that approximately $2700 was received. Spot prizes of orange juice or other drinks provided encouragement along the way, and the "first home" from each class were rewarded with ribbons. To provide an extra incentive for the girls to raise money, there were 'lucky card' prizes which were won by Alison Bourke (grade 9), and Anne Maree Sarquis, (grade 8). Many girls also received Jubilee spoons for their fund raising efforts. On the whole a most successful adventure.

Work Experience

Work experience this year was conducted during the week of 26th to 30th October. The Grade 10 students chose to do either a week's work in a place of employment or to complete a contract in which they agreed to do 30 hours work on a particular field of research.

For the former group, the girls were placed in a variety of employment situations in which they performed the normal duties of an employee. Although they received no remuneration for their week's work, the girls benefitted greatly from this week. They learnt about the rights and responsibilities of an employee, expectations of employers and the many other pleasures and difficulties associated with working life.

"I liked serving the people because they were always friendly and happy."

"I learnt a lot of things."

"It was hard leaving at 7.30 every morning."

"The day seemed to go fairly quickly but by the afternoon I was ready to collapse."

"The thing I hated was to see the German Shepard die from poisoning."

"The other workers treated me as if I'd been working there for ages."

The girls who undertook the research projects worked in areas such as Microscope work, Chemical testing of products, Maths, Computer programming, Library research, Music and building of resource files. They learnt much about research skills, self discipline and organization. They also found that qualities such as perseverance and patience were essential to completing the contract in the assigned time.

Overall, these new work type experiences were of great value to the students, as they faced some of the realities of future life as a student or a member of the work force.

"A worth while experience."

OKLAHOMA !

The school musical Oklahoma was staged on 12th and 13th August, and everyone appeared to enjoy performing and watching the performance (judging from audience reaction).

The girls really worked with us all during the rehearsals to make the play a success, though few had realised at the outset the amount of work and school spirit needed for the staging of a big work.

Karen Grulke as Laurie, Lousie White as Curly, Janet Houn as Aunt Ella acted splendidly, and then we can't possibly forget Clare Holland - Ali Hakim, Danny Mitchell - Ado Annie, Ann-Maree Shearer - Will Parker, Katrina Dawe - Jud Fry, Elizabeth Rowland - Gertie Cummings, Leann Clarke - Andrew Carnes, Lyndall Aitken - Cord Elam, Sharon Edwards - Ike Skidmore, Susan Peskett - Fred and Rachel Thompson as Slim.

These girls were well backed up by colourful dancing, very bright chorus and a well trained orchestra. My special thanks go to all the teachers who helped me at rehearsals, and to Mrs. Hulett, Mrs. Batzloff, Sister Josephine and Mr. Foley for production, dancing, orchestra and props.

CAMPS

Very early in first term, Year 10 students and teachers set off for Shannon Park. During Term 4, Year 8 students went in two groups to Kamp Stacey, near Cunningham's Gap, and a couple of weeks later Year 9 students and teachers headed for Burleigh Heads where they stayed at the Christian Youth Camp, which is on the boundary of Burleigh Heads National Park.

These camps always prove to be a valuable exercise for both staff and students. The girls learn much from living at close quarters for a short period of time, and from participating in the many different activities together. All the camps involve some work and some play; the concerts and campfires are always an enjoyable feature; there is time for quiet and reflection, for enjoying the beauty around us and for seeing teachers in a different light.

After the bus-trip home from camp, an oft-heard question is "When is our next camp?"

" SHANNON PARK "

In the early hours of the year our Grade 10 students were initiated into their role as the 'elders' of the school at our annual Year 10 camp at Shannon Park.

During this camp these 105 students participated in various learning experiences, such as an Art/Craft appreciation of nature, a Careers/Work Experience segment, Maths Competition, an Historical excursion to the cemetery, a nature walk as well as some socializing, such as the campfire with the renowned 'happy sticks'. One of the major aims of the camp, however, was for the students and staff to elect 1981's school leaders. This was accomplished after many interesting exercises.

Although a seemingly short camp of three days, the students learnt about themselves, each other, and nature as the following comments made by some of the students indicate.

YEAR 9 LEADERSHIP CAMP -- BURLEIGH HEADS

The venue for the three day camp this year was the Christian Youth Camp at Burleigh Heads. Here, surrounded by bush, with the tang of the sea air in our nostrils, and the ever present sound of man on the busy highway below, 81 year 9 students and 7 staff worked enthusiastically and co-operatively towards setting goals for the next year.

The opening session set the atmosphere for the whole camp with the hymn "Here I am Lord" becoming very significant for everyone in the days ahead. Prior to arrival at camp, the students had divided into friendship groups and chosen Cathedrals from around the world for cabin names. These Cathedrals were reproduced as sand models after a swim on the Tuesday afternoon and the judges Mrs. Whip and Mrs. Ryall faced a difficult task in deciding upon a winner, as all efforts were commendable.

To single out any one session as being outstandingly memorable would be very difficult, as each contributed towards the success of the camp as a whole. There will be those who enjoyed most the early morning rise for a run, jog or quiet walk along the beach; for others the 'Sun Rise Service' with the mighty waves pounding the shore, where Nature displays its strength, yet also reveals its gentleness in exposing delicate shells.

Many obviously gained much from the science and geography excursions, but above all, it was the fellowship and opportunity to extend circles of friendship that became very apparent as the time to return home drew near. No report on a camp would be complete without a reference to the hospitality of the Administrators at the site and the quality and quantity of the food served. To hear reports that this camp had created a record for the quantity of food consumed speaks for itself! It deserved a 4 star rating.

The surrounding environment contributed much to the final theme for 1982 - the firmness of the rocks, the strength of the waves and the far-reaching effect of the blow-hole spray, so surely 1982 will see St. Ursula's Collegians Co-operate Enthusiastically, Socially and Scholastically.

I liked camp very much. I liked it because it had such a friendly atmosphere. I felt as if I was part of one big happy family, all enjoying each other's company. I had a lot of time to sit down and think about life, about the future and what I was going to do . . . When I find that something I will do the best I can to use it in order to make this world better than ever before.

THE SHELL

I strolled along the beach, my eyes searching,
Searching for something small and perfect and unique.
I sat down slowly on the smooth, white sand and gathered a handful of shells and stones.
Many were cracked or broken and couldn't be kept.
There was nothing that was worth keeping.
I threw them away angrily into the ebbing tide,
to be taken into the sea.
Then I saw it.
It was lying tangled among seaweed.
Gently I uncovered it from its shiny net
and smoothed away the sand and grime.
It was free now - or was it?
I pondered over the blue and white shell which words couldn't describe.
Then, undecided, I dropped it in the sand
so I could find it again tomorrow and be happy.

Lord,
If you can create the sea so perfectly,
The mountains and hills so majestically,
The sky so serenely
The land so wonderfully
The animals so uniquely,

Then,
Help man, whom you made so impetuous and thoughtless,
To stop exploiting these gifts,
And to realize that they are from you,
And are very precious.

Cherie King

I enjoyed Burleigh Heads very much. It was really terrific. Everyone was in a good mood and felt really enthusiastic. I learnt a lot from others and from the teachers' talks.

Lord,
If you can heal lepers
and the lame,
Then help me to heal
any broken friendships.

KAMP STACEY

During the week of 26th - 30th October, the grade 8 students had their first taste of a St. Ursula's camp. The class was divided into two groups of approximately fifty students, each group spending 3 days at Kamp Stacey in beautiful Cunningham's Gap.

The days were filled with bush walks, mountain climbing, gunyah-building, and other "camping" activities such as making and eating "happy sticks", dancing, pottery, and composing concert items. These activities were designed to encourage the students to experience nature, to draw on inner strengths and to enjoy each other's company.

One of the main aims of the camp, was to give the students the opportunity to get to know the other members of their class through living in a communal situation, in which they not only enjoyed the sharing of cabins but also assumed as a group, the responsibility of cleaning duties.

Kamp Stacey was a great success in every way. The two groups participated well in all activities and most students returned with a happy smile, hardened feet and a new friend!

View breathtaking experience, fun.

"I actually reached the mountain top"

"Boy, endless, beautiful never ending time."

A lovely, beautiful, magnificent day

The rainforest was interesting

Cool, peaceful, exhausting, adventurous life.

It was good - There was a sense of community co-operation

"Sliding down the mountain was the best part"

"I got to know some other girls really well"

"I found out long legs are good for long hikes"

Climb slowly, steadily, tediously, Up.

DEBATING TEAM A

BACK ROW (L to R): Kate Clifford, Gaye Scattini, Patricia O'Brien.

DEBATING AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

Six of our Grade 10 girls bravely donned mental armour to engage in verbal battle in debating competitions this year. All six, Kate Clifford, Gaye Scattini, Paula Abel, Alannah Murray and Loretta Jones competed in the Darling Downs section of the Apex debates. On each occasion all six must be commended for their maturity of thought and excellent presentation. Though success to finals was an elusive target this year, the growth in the girls was proof enough that their efforts weren't in vain.

Paula, Alannah and Loretta entered in a second competition run by the Young Nationals. After successes in all preliminary rounds, the girls faced Regional Finals but were narrowly defeated in a split decision by adjudicators. All girls came through the competitions much richer for the experience after having spent so many lunch hours and night times on preparation of convincing arguments.

DEBATING TEAM B

FRONT ROW: Mrs. Hulett.

Earlier in the year eight girls showed the courage of pioneers by entering into a Public Speaking Competition. The girls, Leeann Clark, Elizabeth Flamsteed, Katie O'Rourke, Marea Murray and Terri Webster in the Junior section; Jodie Murphy, Janet Houen and Paula Abel in the Senior section, took to the platform to embark on the art of persuading, informing and entertaining their audience. Such a challenge hadn't been faced in the school for several years and the first tentative steps by the girls were indeed commendable.

DRAMA

Kate Clifford (above) played the part of Mike, an injured American Soldier, while Lucille Knight and Loretta Jones, seen below were young German girls working for the Resistance.

NOBODY THERE BUT US CHICKENS

This was the deceptive title of the grade 10 play entered in the drama Festival run by South Rotaract Club at the Repertory Theatre. The play, written especially for use in schools, was essentially a drama reflecting the experiences of those in war-torn Europe during the Nazi occupation.

Eight girls took to the lights front stage while numerous others gave invaluable assistance back-stage.

In the cast: Lyndal Aitken, Kate Clifford, Paula Fatseas, Loretta Jones, Lucille Knight, Alannah Murray, Tricia O'Brien, Gaye Scattini.

Prompt: Jean Cleary, Jenny Moore.

The make-up department, capably handled by Miss J. Langton included students - Rosalind Welsh, Fiona Blume and Majella Barbe.

Props took shape thanks to the efforts of Mr. J. Foley and crew - too numerous to mention!

Lighting was expertly handled by Sue Smith, Kathy Watts, Louise White and Leiza Ashney.

Since the school was still recovering from the excitement of "Oklahoma", the girls did well to rise to the occasion and give yet more time for rehearsals. Participation in the Festival was a great chance for the girls to see the work of others, as well as display their own special talents!

DUKE OF EDINBURGH

Following the presentation of our first Bronze Awards last year, we were overwhelmed by enthusiastic candidates during 1981.

The Duke of Edinburgh Award is a learning and growing experience and requires of the candidate initiative, enthusiasm and most of all commitment to whatever is required of her.

Of our large starting group some have fallen by the wayside but we still have approximately 20 girls who are persevering.

Each girl has completed three sections of the Award:-

Service - 15 hours over 3 months
Social Skills - 5 - 6 lectures
Interest - over 6 months

In the Service section we had girls visiting many nursing homes, hospitals and children's homes, including Brodribb, Wesley, Hamewith, St. Andrews Hospital, St. Vincents Hospital, Lourdes Home and Rangehaven.

The Social skills section was conducted by Mrs. Lyle Cadzow who instructed the girls in the art of grooming, hair care, skin care, make up etc. Our thanks must go to Mrs. Cadzow for showing her interest in us and for giving of her time to conduct these sessions.

In the interests section, the girls chose either an existing hobby or an entirely new hobby and developed certain skills in that area over a period of 6 months. Interests included dressmaking, video, ballet, pottery, swimming, music, glassblowing and cooking.

The 4th and most difficult section is the expedition work. Where after much preliminary training, a 2 day hike is planned and undertaken. On the 10/11 October a training camp was held at Perseverance Dam - 15 of our girls and 4 Concordia girls attended.

On the Saturday the girls had lectures in first aid, map and compass reading, country code and demonstrations in camp cooking and packing for a hike. Later in the evening a film on the scheme was shown and the Sunday hike was planned using skills acquired during the day. The evening meal proved much fun and certainly tested the initiative of the girls - they had no cooking utensils but soon all the steaks were sizzling over the fire - branches make great forks!

An interesting variety of food was to be seen going into the fire and it was certainly different when it came out. However, despite the ashy hands, the alfoil between the teeth and the floaties in the tea, I'm sure the girls thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

After tea and the hike planning we sang and danced around the camp fire, with damper and billy tea for supper before heading off to the tents for a 'hard' night's rest.

Early - very early Sunday morning - brought the dawn chorus of giggles and groans and energy. After a hearty breakfast we set off on one hike - within the first 5 minutes the three groups had headed in different directions - but whether some of us went cross country or walked an extra 2 miles around the road, we all managed to find the same mountain and scale it for magnificent views of Perseverance Dam, Crows Nest Falls and the new Cressbrook Dam. We then continued on for lunch and eventually we returned to camp by 2.30 p.m. Clean up and then the Concordia Bus brought the weary bodies home.

Since that weekend four girls have undertaken their test expedition and that completes the Bronze Award for them. It is hoped that they will receive their Award before the end of the school year. These girls are Tammie O'Brien, Therese Garvey, Kathy Downs and Leeann Clark. Our congratulations to the girls on their achievement and for honouring the commitment they made when they joined the scheme. It is hoped to see more achievements in the future.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH

7a.m. on a bright sunny Saturday morning we set off on our test expedition for Bronze level, Duke of Edinburgh award. Our route was from Echo Valley to the power station, Lyons Park. Overnight at Mt. Rascal and then on to Finny, Mt. Peel, Spring Creek and home to Harristown Railway.

The first day went fine despite having to carry Therese's pack between us on all uphill treks (being short is often a disadvantage).

It was annoying how we were regarded as hippies by little children and upon reaching Harristown, old people would close and lock front doors.

The hiking was okay, except a stray mongrel adopted us and enticed temperamental bulls and mother cows into charging after us; (quick exit on our part-slightly difficult with little wire fences!)

Therese often found little streams that were ankle deep to the majority, slightly saturating, experiences.

The night was a different matter. Our bright starry sky suddenly left us to be taken over by cloud which blessed us with rain. This would not have been a hindrance except for National Fitness non-waterproof tents. Thus at 12 o'clock at night we were swimming in two of our tents and the six of us had evacuated to the 3rd which wasn't much better.

So after obtaining about two hours sleep at the most, we emerged from our tents at 5a.m. being able to stand it no longer.

After a soggy breakfast we sloshed through mud, finding half of it stuck to our shoes, to complete our DELIGHTFUL two day camp.

The moral of this story is - BEWARE OF NATIONAL FITNESS TENTS - THEY LEAK.

TOOWOOMBA - SERVAM AWARD

Several enthusiastic Year 9 students bounded along earlier this year, to join the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme. Unfortunately they were several months too early - age wise. Rather than let all the talent and energy fade away waiting, we decided to allow the girls to do a bridging course. This course we named the Toowoomba-Servam Award and the girls had to meet requirements in three areas:-

Service - 15 hours over a minimum of 12 weeks
Interest - work at a new or existing hobby over 4 months
Social Skills - attend a series of lectures and do an oral and written test.

We had four girls involved in this Award - Cherie King, Lisa Kelman, Leisel Keutmann and Belinda Ritchie. For the service section, Cherie, Belinda and Leisel worked at Rangehaven Nursing Home; Lisa working at St. Vincent's Hospital.

For an interest, Lisa, Leisel and Cherie pursued dressmaking while Belinda learnt something of how the video outfit works.

In the Social Skills section, Mrs. Lyle Cadzow did a series of sessions with the girls on personal grooming, hair care, skin care, clothes etc. Many thanks to Mrs. Cadzow for giving her time to be involved with our group.

On completion of these requirements the four girls were presented with special Toowoomba Servam Award in recognition of the talent and energy with which they pursued all tasks and in recognition of the fact that they made a commitment - in fact many commitments and they honoured these.

Three of the girls have now continued into the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme and they are entering into the Scheme with the same boundless enthusiasm. My congratulations to the four girls on their personal achievement.

TASMANIAN TOUR

I cannot rest from travel -
I am become a name
For always roaming with a hungry heart;
I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch where through
Gleams the untraveller world, whose margin fades.
For ever and ever when I move!

From Tennyson's Ulysses

With 35 hyperactive teenagers and 4 equally excited adults on board a new McCafferty's Denning Coach, the St. Ursula's College Department of Tourism launched another of its thoroughly enjoyable and very memorable holidays. This year we were off to Tassie (though when one staff member volunteered, she did think she was off to see a musical!) for 14 days to what we thought was the Apple Isle. However, we soon discovered our T shirts and our awards were out of date - it's now the Holiday Isle. After a long haul to Melbourne during which we collected three bodies en route we had only one casualty - one purse left behind in Toowoomba - I wonder whose !! Thank goodness for Jet Express! We were greeted in Melbourne by several equally bleary eyed St. Mary's boys who very gentlemanly carried our cases for us. Whilst at the Airport several of us had an inspection of the TAA Communications Centre and the Catering Facilities. At 12.00 we boarded our plane and were soon in Launceston to begin the "real" part of our journey.

Our first three nights were spent in Penguin and unfortunately the only penguins we saw were the brightly coloured rubbish bins in what seemed to be the main street. Penguin brought many adventures including evening beach walks, an hilarious concert, a very rainy trip to the Black Stump (the blacksmith we will never forget!!), the carpet factory (after which we all decided to treat our carpet with much respect), a very enjoyable time at Boat Harbour Beach (one of the most beautiful spots we had time to enjoy) and of course our trip to the Nut (and its not like the Big Pineapple or the Big Cow). Most of the group climbed to the top - some faster than others - and we were accorded with a tremendous view once at the top.

From Penguin we travelled to Queenstown - passing through a little snow, where we had an inspection of the mine. Queenstown is a breathtaking site with the mountains completely denuded of any vegetation but certainly standing strong and silent as a reminder to man of his destruction of the environment. Hobart was our next call staying there for 4 nights. Our camp was actually 20km out of Hobart at 7 mile beach but having a beach 5 mins from the cabins certainly made up for that. We all enjoyed being able to go for walks before tea after a day in the bus and after tea we settled down in front of the open fire. Our first night in Hobart we went out to the Red Fox Tavern for dinner and the atmosphere was great with the waiters in the red hound master outfits and the waitresses dressed as wenches. The owner of the tavern conducted a singalong, with the songs being printed on our 'bibs'. The food was excellent with such dishes as Aberdeen steak, prawn salad, Barramundi fish, Quail all being offered. A great night. The second day in Hobart was a city sights tour including a visit to Cadbury's chocolate factory (very scrumptious), The Tudor Village and the Shot Tower followed by a half day shopping. What fascination shops hold - especially the "op" shops!

One 'sudsie' memory I will have of Hobart is washing - doing forty-two peoples washing is quite an experience. Simply carrying all the plastic bags proved to be a feat and a sight for the locals! I did have three brave volunteers to shoulder some of the experience!

The highlight of our trip was undoubtedly the trip to Port Arthur - the sun was shining and time was no object to our discovery of our heritage and to our enjoyment of the surroundings and in many cases, contemplation of what Port Arthur means to us and of the people who spent their lives there in chains.

Many many hours could have been spent climbing the ruins, sitting in the sun, making discoveries.

Other places of interest around Hobart were Hastings Caves, Tasman Arch, the Tessellated Pavement. Our time in Hobart was much the highlight of the trip.

From Hobart we went to the east coast to Bicheno. Again a beach to wander along as well as a superb campsite that looked out to the sea - and some of us were able to awaken to this view. From here we went to Coles Bay and spent the day hiking to Wineglass Bay - not the easiest of hikes but we all made it and it was well worth the frustrated utterances as the climb up, up over the rocks seemed to continue forever.

The next day we headed up to Launceston and the scout camp about 30km out of town. Again the open fire and woodland surrounds made up for the distance out of Launceston. City sights and shopping were the main order of the days in Launceston, though we did manage to get to a wildlife park and see a Tasmanian Devil before we left. We flew from Launceston to Melbourne and after a long bustrip arrived in Toowoomba safe and well but tired.

There are many adventures and experiences not touched on here - each of us has a multitude of stories to tell.

I'm sure the girls found the trip an experience - an experience of new things, different people, challenges and hopefully of a discovery of something new and strong within themselves. We lived at close quarters and though at times this was difficult, I think we succeeded at moulding ourselves into a community. Gradually the girls were able to take time to be with people, to be with themselves, to relax, and to learn from this.

My thanks must go to Sr. Sue (who was banker and nurse) and to our two 'wobblies' - Mrs. Whip and Sr. Marj. Mention must also be made of our three veteran travellers who really cannot 'rest from travel' - they have come, seen and conquered all on the three trips we have had - Kathryn Canning, Bronwyn Kerr and Maree Seymour. Many thanks also to Sr. Janet who gives the encouragement and support for our adventures.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

Our instrumental group made up of a variety of instruments, flutes, clarinets, double bass, cellos, guitars, organ, recorders, violins and piano has continued to grow and improve during 1981. We especially welcomed some very talented members from Grade 8, who are already very proficient flute and clarinet players. The highlight of the year was Oklahoma. Many hours of private and group practice went into this musical, but the performance was well worth it and the girls were to be congratulated on their effort - quite remarkable considering they were all young, inexperienced players. Their playing each Sunday also enhances our Liturgies and we are grateful for their generous contribution there. The girls also enjoy small group work and each concert usually features an ensemble of different instruments. We look forward to the coming year's activities and to even bigger and better things!

SWIMMING

Although 1981 was not a winning year for St. Ursula's there were some 'magic moments' to be recalled. Our U13 competitors staged a brilliant win against all Brisbane had to offer in winning the U13 Brisbane medley relay. This team - Rowena Frank, Rachel Thomson, Kylie Loch and Marni Cocks have recorded placings in every relay they have contested.

At our own School Carnival enthusiasm was rampant with cheer squads trying to out do Dezo's very organised encouragement. After a very tight race for age victory honours, our age champions were: U13 Rowena Frank, U14 Katie O'Rourke, U15 Jane Hudson and U16 Louise White, with Kylie Loch our College Champion. Rowena Frank broke our backstroke record with a new time of 39.01 seconds, with Rachel Thomson setting a breaststroke record in 42.56 seconds.

With the opening of our Jubilee Pool this year our swimmers improved their placings at the T.S.-S.S.A. Carnival swimming into a creditable 5th place. Jane Hudson and Kylie Loch swam in the Toowoomba representative side.

HOCKEY

Although this year the hockey team failed to win the "B" Grade premiership, this in no way detracted from the enthusiasm shown by our players. The team gave good performances in their matches against Fairholme and Glennie. Leanne Moran, with the help of the backs, Jacki Love and Lyndal Aitken stopped many a goal scoring attempt by the opposition. The halves, Anne Gorder, Patrina Whitmore and Paula Fatseas supported both the forwards and defence lines. Gabrielle Scattini, Barbara Brennan and Majella Barbe were our goal scorers for the season and they were ably backed up by the rest of the forward line of Loretta Jones, Sue James and Robyn MacDonald.

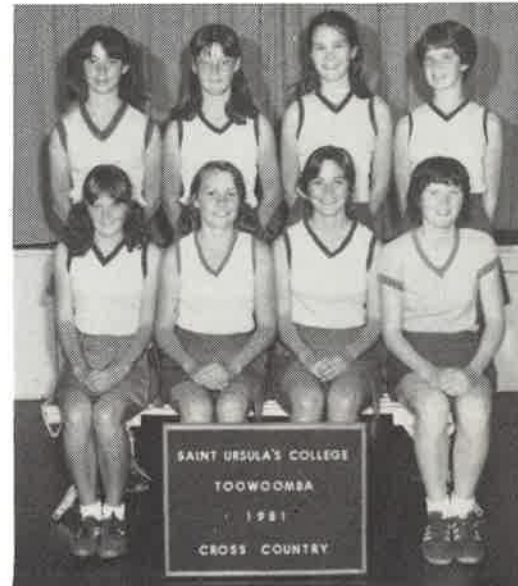

Thanks must also go to Leiza Ashney and Margaret Turvey, who were very willing reserves and kept the score sheets and timed the halves for the matches. This year saw many Grade 8 and 9 students taking hockey and if their keenness is any indication of next year's season, all that can be said is "Fairholme and Glennie - watch out!"

CROSS COUNTRY

FRONT ROW (L to R): Janelle Newton, Kate O'Rourke, Kathy Canning, Kylie Loch.

Once again a very small but extremely dedicated group of runners trained hard for this years cross country. Our U14 team were the first Toowoomba team home and finished 3rd overall. Individual places were as follows: Kylie Loch 4th, Katie O'Rourke 12th, Ann-Maree Henry 17th and Mary Dilleen 19th. Our senior team of Kathy Canning, Kerri Wildman, Janelle Newton and Liz Flamsteed ran well under trying conditions. Due to the flu Cathy Hemming was unable to test her training.

ATHLETICS

The athletic season this year was a rushed affair. No sooner had 'Oklahoma' finished than the 'run jump, throw' fever was upon us.

Our athletic carnival was again held at Downlands in blustery conditions; nevertheless many fine displays of hard athletic prowess were to be seen. Hours of very hard training were rewarded for Alanah Murray who edged out Sally Montgomery for the U15 age champion. The U14 championship became a mammoth struggle between Kate O'Rourke, Kerri Wildman, Mary Dilleen and Jacinta Canavan, who won narrowly. The U13 age championship was a clear victory for Sandra Harris, who quite easily defeated Kylie Loch, Helen Littleton and Vicki Hohn.

St Ursula's competed in three major carnivals, the first being the Beirne Cup in Brisbane. Due to our population growth we have been promoted to the largest schools' competition where we took fifth place. All athletes competed hard and our school spirit was evident.

At the inaugural Christian Brothers Carnival our U13 and U14 athletes won the Mark Sheridan Memorial Trophy, with first placings a repeated occurrence.

The Toowoomba District Carnival was a spectacular affair. St. Ursula's dropped two places this year to run fifth but already we are planning to rebound up the placings in 1982.

Seven athletes competed as members of the selected Toowoomba Athletic side. Helen Littleton, Vicki Hohn, Kylie Loch, Alannah Murray, Sally Montgomery, Mary Dilleen and Sandra Harris.

SPORTS DAY

The flags are flying and streamers litter the playground. The air is thick with the chanting of war cries and the occasional brawl. Today is the day of judgement, the sports day!

Athletes are lined up, ready to start the 1500 metre sprint - yes! sprint!. Last minute instructions are being issued and . . . Oh no! It's that show-off, Miss Wendy Winner - she's always winning sporting awards, a real pain in the . . . athletes foot! The starter has called for silence. On your mark ! . . . get set! . . . BANG! The gun goes off and so do the runners. Our team is leading and . . . not again! It's that Wendy Winner again, she's gaining on us . . . she's passing our runners . . . she's near the finish line . . . SHE'S WON!!! I can't watch any longer, I'll go and find out what events I'm in.

Where's the !#@ programme! Oh, now let's see . . . , Lizzy Loser (that's me), Jenny Jogger, Wendy W..... Oh no! I'm racing against Wendy Winner, I've got to beat her.

Uh oh! I think I should have sabotaged the loud speaker, they're calling me for the 400 metres. Maybe I can develop a broken leg . . . or sprained ankle, orNO! I'm going to do it! I'll race Wendy Winner, I'll beat Wendy Winner and I'll do it for my team - (Australia's sons)

We're at the starting line, there's Wendy - We're next Take your mark . . . (grit your teeth) Get set! . . . (Lift your chin) . . . BANG! . . .Running blindly, flinging myself from the starting line, . . . (puff, pant) I'm going to beat Wendy. My legs feel like stone. (Puff, gasp) Hey, I'm out here on my own, I must be winning. They're cheering me . . . I'm nearing the finish line and . . . could it be? Yes it is! Wendy's behind me . . . here's the line, I WON, I WON, I WON, (Puff, puff).

I'll show her, I'll march straight to the prizes tent and collect my prize and wave it in front of her face What! What do you mean, "You didn't win", I was in front of everyone, even Wendy, on my own! You mean SHE won and it was the race after mine that she was running, Oh no, my poor, aching head!

FRONT ROW: Marion Chippendale, Alannah Murray, Nicki Schmidt.

The A Grade netball team had a hard task before them as they had to compete against the Senior teams from Glennie, Fairholme and St. Saviours. The team pooled all their efforts and came close to a victory when they drew with Glennie. This success encouraged the girls to train hard, and put 100% effort into all their games. Special thanks to Alannah Murray who captained the A grade side; Alannah's enthusiasm helped the teams' spirit and her organisation of the team led to maximum performance from all her players.

B GRADE NETBALL

In response to the great demand by students for involvement in the netball fixtures, we fielded teams in each of the grade divisions in the inter-school competition.

Although our girls were very much younger than their opposition in every case they showed excellent team spirit and provided considerable opposition to the other teams.

The defence work of Joanne Parker and Ngaire Carpenter, teamed with the combination of Kate O'Rourke's speed and accuracy and Laura Dorge's height in the goal circle, gave the team 3 out of 6 wins. Congratulations on your team effort and spirit, girls!

BACK ROW (L to R): Anne-Maree Henry, Liz Flamsteed, Laura Dorge, Christine Madden.

C GRADE NETBALL

As with the other grade teams in netball, these girls found themselves playing against teams of greater age and experience than themselves. However, they presented a good opposition to the other schools and showed by their team spirit and co-operation at training that they were determined to do their best.

Each one quietly but surely worked out her role in the team and did her best to carry it out. Veronica O'Sullivan, in the centre, was constantly wearing out her partner because she covered the court so well, while Robin Mickleburgh showed she could play any position with skill and accuracy at a moment's notice. Congratulations on your team effort and spirit!

UNDER 15 NETBALL

FRONT ROW: Tracey Monteith, Kate Clifford, Bronwyn Kerr, Jane O'Shannessy.

The Under 15's had an unfortunate disappointment at the beginning of the season when Kristen Jones left the squad. Kathy Canning was a strong replacement and adjusted to her new team well. The girls were captained by Kate Clifford who displayed good leadership, and a dedication to training and maximum effort in each game. The girls had a disappointing finish in 3rd place, after coming very close to beating the premiers St. Saviours.

UNDER 14 NETBALL

FRONT ROW: Sue Smith, Kathy Downs, Karen Blinco, Jacinta Canavan.

Our only premiership win was the U14 Netball team. This highly professional team maintained their undefeated win from last year. Our defence players Liesel Keutmann, Kathy Downs, Mary Dilleen and Karen Blinco played an aggressive game rarely letting any opposing player's passes through their tight cordon. Jacinta Canavan, as centre, covered most of the court all the time using up her seemingly endless energy. Sue Smith as captain and wing attack, directed play through to the circle where Ann Maree Shearer and Carolyn Heywood landed a reasonable high percentage of goals - especially during crucial moments. As next years seniors, this team gives promise of another premiership victory. Well done girls.

UNDER 13 NETBALL

The U13 competition produced split ability. Whilst our team easily 'thrashed' Fairholme and Glennie, they met their match in St. Saviours. Perhaps our easy wins in the first two rounds left this young and inexperienced team a little complacent. Helen Littleton and Alisa Ferris were a formidable defence pair for St. Ursula's, whilst Thea Clifford dominated play in her defence wing position. Ann-Maree Henry showed her athletic prowess as centre whilst Maria McQuinlan was always an attacking force.

Alison Josey and Rachel Thomson were usually reliable, sometimes brilliant, in the goal circle. Vicki Hohn showed her vast ability by playing most positions on the court. This team were runners up and with a little more experience look a sure chance for 1982.

BACK ROW (L to R): Alison Josey, Anne-Maree Henry, Alisa Ferris, Helen Littleton.

SOFTBALL

This year we again won both the Under 14 and Under 15 softball premierships.

UNDER 15

Once again this team proved what an excellent combination they were. The dynamic duo of Kristen Jones and Julie Jurd had many opposing batters left standing in the box. Kathy Watts, Allison Gibb and Sue Smith tagged and guarded their bases well. Kate Clifford, Marion Chippendale, Del Han, Jackie Love and Jane Hudson covered many kilometres in the outfield, rarely conceding a home run. Pauline Herbert was always reliable taking some brilliant catches at short stop. The team fought out a very tense grand final match against Fairholme to remain undefeated in three years.

UNDER 14

This inexperienced team welded themselves into a formidable unit and convincingly won their premiership. Helen Littleton pitched throughout the season and improved with each game. Karen Blinco showed her versatility, moving from first base to catcher, from where she directed play. Veronica O'Sullivan, Anne-Maree Henry and Cathy Jensen moved well to stop all long hits scoring. Samantha Liebke, Maria McQuillan and Michelle McKellar threatened any runners attempting to gain their bases. Whilst Anne-Maree and Thea Clifford were aggressive as short stops. This record augurs well for a successful 1982 season.

B GRADE SOFTBALL
BACK ROW (L to R): Kendall Perkins, Tammie O'Brien, Laura Dorge, Lyndal Aitken, Nicole Schmidt.
FRONT ROW (L to R): Megan O'Sullivan, Sandra Harris, Ngaire Carpenter, Karen Reis, Cheryl Collins.

B GRADE SOFTBALL

This year our "Senior ladies" formed themselves into a B grade team to challenge the other schools players. Young Vicki Garius pitched to Laura Dorge who was a vocal encouragement to her team and who guaranteed a home run every time she came to bat. Lyndal Aitken on first base, Nicki Schmidt on second and Ngaire Carpenter on third enjoyed a number of "cuts." Whilst Sandra Harris dashed from short stop to pluck many a catch out of the air. Cheryl Collins, Megan O'Sullivan, Tammy O'Brien and Karen Reis covered most of the outfield with enthusiasm. This team showed what enthusiasm and spirit can produce.

WATER POLO

Congratulations to all those game St. Ursula's girls who dare to brave Toowoomba's Milne Bay "Ice Pool". Every entrant is equipped with an ice pick, and a bravery medal before each game.

All newcomers are to be commended for their efforts. Training sessions are well attended even in those cloudy, wintery mornings.

We have in our midsts great potential in the Under 18 age group - boarding on state level. Louise White, Jane Hudson, Cathy and Sue James, all play in the Toowoomba Representative team and have improved greatly this season.

In the local level competition, St. Ursula's provides the backbone of the competition. Most improved this season is Louise Prior who has tried her best in every game. All those girls who have commenced Polo this year are to be congratulated for their support and enthusiasm. We hope to recruit more girls next year - its lots of fun.

BASKETBALL

We entered our first Womens Basketball Team in the Toowoomba Under 16 Competition this year. Our team consisted of Anne Maree King, Leona Terry, Mary McKillop, Del and Natalie Han, Justine Tonkin, Carolyn Heywood, Ann Rily, Robin Mickelbourn and Veronica O'Sullivan.

I enjoyed coaching this team who had tremendous team spirit. We were beaten . . . often, but court play improved 200%. The girls have enjoyed their short season and I hope they recruit more players and continue next year.

Most valuable player and captain was Veronica O'Sullivan who put full effort into all games. A lot of people have commented on the girls' potential. I hope the girls continue to enjoy and improve their Basketball.

TENNIS

Tennis wise 1981 has been an action packed year. In first term our U15 and B grade Tennis Teams won the inter school tennis premierships. Since May four teams have been competing on a Saturday afternoon in local fixtures conducted by the Toowoomba Tennis Association. The two teams playing in Senior Fixtures are at present holding third position and should reach the play offs. In July a number of our players competed in a Tournament for Darling Downs representation and Cathy Josey was selected in the team which competed at the State trials in Brisbane.

Some of our tennis personalities are -

Rachel Thomson - winner of College Singles Championship; member of B Premiership team; plays A Reserve fixtures; most promising talent with a lethal forehand.

Alison Josey - runner up in College Championship; member of B Grade Premiership team; plays A Reserve fixtures; won four titles at the Toowoomba Championships; very talented player with a big future.

Cathy Josey - member of U15 Premiership team; plays A Grade fixtures, representing Darling Downs, U15 Toowoomba Doubles Champion; works very hard at her game and shows potential to be a really fine player.

Terri Webster - member of U15 Premiership team; plays A grade fixtures; good all round game with a stylish forehand.

Sally Montgomery - member of U15 Premiership team; plays A grade fixtures; very mobile player and very consistent.

Carmel Albeck - member of U15 Premiership team; plays A Reserve fixtures; good all round game with a punishing forehand.

Carolyn Heywood - member of B grade Premiership team; plays Pennant Grade Junior Fixtures; shows lots of potential with a really good forehand.

Michelle Stenzel - member of B Grade Premiership team; plays fixtures at Clifton; a most promising player.

Justine Tonkin and Ann Rily - play Pennant Grade Junior Fixtures; very keen and leaders in fashion on centre court.

Cathy Jensen - plays A Grade Junior fixtures; most promising player who should do well in the future.

Katrina Cochran and Angela Tonkin - play A Grade Junior fixtures; two of our keenest younger players who should improve with future competition.

Lisa Bright and Maria McQuillan - both play A Grade fixtures and are improving with every match.

Carmen Keegan, Kate O'Rourke, Jenny Moore, Suellen Topfer, Therasa Nolan, Elizabeth Flamsteed, Marianne and Hanne Bonde have all played in fixture teams and their services were much appreciated.

BALL GAMES

"Tunnel straight," "push, push," and "watch your feet" were echoed many times in the first two frantic weeks of term 4, as our ball games competitors practised their skills.

Throughout the ball games carnival the tussle between the "giants" of ball games - St. Saviours and St. Ursula's, reached new heights.

Our U15 team of enthusiastic girls directed their exuberance towards running and passing and thus were crowned their age champions. The grade 8 combination played well and the weeks of practice were rewarded with second placing.

The talented U14 girls overcame a few minor obstacles to be placed third in their age group, emphasising their ability in a dazzling athletic display in Star Relay.

Overall the St. Ursula's team captured second place, vowing to tackle the first place position next year.

Autographs

We hope that you have enjoyed looking back on 1981 at St. Ursula's.

Thank you to all who have helped with the production of Serviam 1981 ---

— to all those Year 10 students who spent Friday afternoons and much of their own time arranging photos, typing and dreaming up ideas.

—to those who contributed reports.

— to those who acted as roving photographers.

— to our typists.

— to all who encouraged and supported the venture in so many ways.
